THE GENIAL ELEPHANT.

It was a cheery, red-checked man of the German type and had just settled himself for an after-dinner smoke. He had probably turned forty and at least half of his years had been devoted to elephant training. To look after the welfare of four elephants, which he must do, does not appear an attractive job, but there were no lines of care nor his straight up-and-down frame.

"The best part of my life has been spent in the company of elephants and nearly every day somebody tells me things about them I don't know. What makes me most tired is the fool question about tail elephants. A small elephant is a freak and is seldom come up with. The big beast is as domestic as the horse, although a little too cumbersome for the average user."

"When an elephant gets a little cranky there is always some light-headed attendant. It seems to fly off and say he is crazy. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred the poor elephant has been badly treated, and as he cannot talk he does about the only thing he can do and trumpet his disgust, and maybe cases his trunk in the same way and in the same way, just like a woman, when they get fussed it takes a long while to sweeten them again, if it is done at all."

"Because the elephant is such a big animal most people think he must be full of danger. This is all nonsense. Did you ever notice how fond they are of children? Who ever heard of an elephant hurting a child? Why, in our winter quarters the boys and girls will pet them and walk among them and the elephants enjoy it. They will move so close to make room and never step on their feet. This is more than can be said of horses."

In their jungle home the babies always run under their mother's body when any danger approaches, and explorers say that no matter how panicky the stampede, they have never found more than two or three crushed baby elephants. This may account for the fact that elephants never make the mistake of stepping on a child's foot. The animal is really of a loving disposition and very gentle and obedient."

With the elephant came a jump. He cannot even cross a trench six or seven feet wide, although the step of a large one is more than six feet long. There are times in the movement of a circus when it would be impossible to get on without him."

"I have seen a heavy stake and chain wagon stalled in mud up to the hub, where horses could not budge it. Then his trunk and tusks at once became a lever, and the wagon was pulled out. With his aid the wagons were pushed out of their trouble and those that were tipped over were righted. The work could go on in the necessary quick way of a circus."

The elephant's head, protected by a pad, is a run of immense force. These things show that he is a mighty useful fellow in our world and not half as bad as many people believe."

The daughter is best at her father-in-law's house and the elephant is best at the circus. It is the only way of saving the daughters and elephants are an expensive luxury. But however that may be, and all good things after all come under the hand of God, don't let anybody lead you into the belief that elephants belong to the savage class some writers claim."

FINAL BALL.

Brilliant Affair at Washington and Lee University.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LEXINGTON, VA., June 18.—The final ball Wednesday night, concluding a brilliant commencement at Washington and Lee University, was the most brilliant one ever danced in the spacious gymnasium. The decorations were elaborate and tasteful, and consisted of beautiful electric light effects, with a liberal display of bunting and fraternity banners and streamers. The music was furnished by Smith's orchestra, of Washington, D. C. An elaborate supper was served at 2:30 o'clock in Newcomb Hall.

The ball was opened at 11:45 o'clock by Mr. Herbert Stables Osburn, of Baltimore, Md., with Miss Elvira McCornick, of Leesburg, Va., a charming and beautiful young lady, who was richly gowned in white net over silk, and wore a S. A. E. pin as ornaments. The opening figure was a most beautiful exhibition of intricate and spectacular evolutions, and concluding with the formation of the letters "W. L. U." Twenty-four couples took part. The ladies were all dressed in white and carried hand-some bunches of American Beauty roses. As they glided through the mazes of the beautiful opening figure, they presented a lovely sight. The other dancers in the opening figure were:

Miss Louise Purcell, of Richmond, wearing white embroidered tulle, smothered ornaments, with Mr. A. D. Trundle, of Booleville, Md.
Miss Avis Grant, of Richmond, white lace over white silk, diamonds, K. A. pins, lilies of the valley; with Mr. David W. Pipes, of Clinton.

Miss Annie Howry Dunn, of Birmingham, Ala., embroidered white chiffon, S. A. E. pins, diamond comb; with Mr. Kenneth I. McKay, of Tampa, Fla.

Miss Rosa Johnston Tucker, of Washington, D. C., white silk, mull; with Mr. Thomas Bledsoe, of Lexington.

Miss Sarah Griffin, of Bedford City, white chiffon; with Mr. R. W. Withers, of Lexington, Va.

Miss Dora Williams, of McComas, Va., white organdy, K. A. pins; with Mr. A. M. Duncan, of Springfield, Ky.

Miss Louise Ebbert, of Covington, Ky., white mull and lace, pearls and rubies; with Mr. F. W. Bridges, of Hancock, Md.

Miss Mabelle L. Swats, of Charleston, W. Va., pink crepe de chine over taffeta; with Mr. O. B. Harvey, of Douglas, Ark.

Miss Margaret Graham, of Lexington, Va., cream embroidered batiste; with Mr. A. C. Lee, of Chester, S. C.

Miss Sadie Tucker, of Bedford City, white silk and real lace, pearls; with Mr. Martin P. Burks, of Lexington, Va.

Miss Annie Jordan, of Norfolk, Va., white embroidered organdy, over taffeta, diamonds; with Mr. B. Mercer Hartman, of Richmond, Va.

Miss Ethel A. Naylor, of Baltimore, white silk batiste, and lace, Sigma Nu pin; with Mr. J. P. Walker, of Overfield, W. Va.

Miss Aurelia Howe Davis, of Lynchburg, white Swiss and lace, rubies and pearls; with Mr. W. V. Collins, of Paris, Tex.

Miss Margaret A. Lee, of Lexington, white organdy; with Mr. J. Edward Arbuckle, of Lewisburg, Va.

Miss Mabel B. Liddle, of Staunton, white silk mull; with Mr. J. Randolph Tucker, of Staunton, Va.

Miss Martha Moore, of Lexington, white mull; with Mr. A. T. Smiley, of Staunton, Va.

Miss Lily Lawrence Rust, of Lexington, white organdy and lace; with Mr. C. C. Thomas, of Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Effie D. Hunter, of Washington, D. C., white organdy, real lace, Sigma Nu pin and pearls; with Mr. Frank B. Ide, of Leesburg, Va.

Miss Louise D. Shields, of Lexington, white China silk, pearls; with Mr. John A. Moore, of Lexington.

Miss Sally Lacy, of Washington, D. C., white silk, pearls; with Mr. Stanley Scott, of Eastville, Va.

Miss Nellie Brockmough, of Lexington, white silk and point d'esprit, K. A. pin; with Mr. Albert Steves, Jr., of San Antonio, Tex.

Miss Mary Berkely McNulty, of Vicksburg, Miss, white organdy and lace, S. A. E. pins; with Mr. G. E. Haw, of Hanover, Va.

Miss Evelyn Williams, of Georgetown, D. C., white organdy and lace; with Mr. G. W. Worthen, of Little Rock, Ark.

In addition to those taking part in the opening figures a number of other couples were on the floor. The ball broke up at daybreak.

The chorones were Mrs. Herbert Osburn, of Baltimore; Mrs. W. D. Baker, of Clifton Forge, Va.; Miss Kate Lord, of Covington, Ky.; Mrs. W. J. Conte Stevens, of Staunton, Va.; Mrs. John W. Kern, of Staunton, Va.; Mrs. Humphreys, Miss Annie R. White, of Washington and Lee University; Mrs. Samuel B. Walker, Mrs. Lawrence Rust, Mrs. E. Morgan Pendleton, Mrs. Robert L. Owen, Mrs. Benjamin Huger, of Lexington.

DEPARTMENT CAMPAIGN

President Roosevelt Issues Orders of Importance, Which Go to Strengthen Him.

IS A GREAT POLITICIAN

His Civil Service Order Is Directed to Make Him Solid With Clerks.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 17.—Through President Roosevelt has been greatly criticised for his selection of Secretary Cortelyou to manage his campaign as national chairman, because, as it was alleged by Republicans, as well as Democrats, the Secretary was not a politician capable of such important work, the fact must not be lost sight of that Theodore Roosevelt himself is one of the shrewdest politicians this country has produced. Evidence of his constant watch for opportunity to advance his interests, and his quickness to perceive whatever will be of value to him in a political way, was contained in an order issued this week, relative to the civil service.

CIVIL SERVICE ORDER.
This order directs that where a civil service employee of the government has for any reason retired from office and is then reinstated, he shall go back to his old grade as soon as there is vacancy, and that without an examination. The effect of such an order is far more important than may appear on its face, or the non-official holding public may be able to realize. A department clerk, for instance, receiving a salary of two thousand dollars a year, retired from office ten years ago, for the purpose of engaging in private business. After ten years in private life, he determines to re-enter the service and takes an examination on an appointment clerk, for instance, receiving a salary of two thousand dollars a year, retired from office ten years ago, for the purpose of engaging in private business. After ten years in private life, he determines to re-enter the service and takes an examination on an appointment clerk, for instance, receiving a salary of two thousand dollars a year, retired from office ten years ago, for the purpose of engaging in private business.
